The relevant provisions are as follows:

i. Section 9(b) and 9(c) of the Banks and Specialised Deposit-Taking Institutions Act, 2016 (Act 930) empowers the Bank of Ghana not to issue licenses to promoters of Banks and Specialised Deposit-Taking Institutions unless it is satisfied that the significant shareholders are suitable and the proposed directors and Key Management Personnel are fit and proper.

Principles Underlying the Directive

6. The principles underlying this Directive are as follows: —

i. Proportionality and case-by-case assessment

   (a) The Bank of Ghana may apply the principle of proportionality on a case-by-case basis to the different classes of Regulated Financial institutions.

   Thus the supervisory process of the Bank of Ghana as well as the application of the suitability criteria shall be commensurate with the size, nature and complexity of the Regulated Financial Institution as well as the particular role under consideration to be filled.

   (b) The application of the proportionality principle to the suitability criteria shall not lead to a lowering of the suitability standards.

ii. Due process and fairness

   The Bank of Ghana shall consider all information relevant and material to the fit and proper assessment of a person in arriving at its decision.

iii. Fit and Proper Assessment and ongoing supervision

   Fit and proper assessments by the Bank of Ghana are part of its continuous review of the governance of a Regulated Financial Institution, especially with regard to the significant shareholders, composition and functioning of the Board and Key Management Personnel.
PART II - CONDITIONS FOR ASSESSMENT AND APPOINTMENT

ii. Function-specific and minimum requirements

(a) The principle of proportionality is inherently applicable, as the level of experience required depends on the main characteristics of the specific function and the institution. The more complex these characteristics are, the more experience will be required.

(b) All members of the Board are expected to possess, as a minimum, basic knowledge and experience relating to a combination of any of under listed disciplines:
• banking and finance;
• regulatory framework and legal requirements;
• strategic planning, and understanding of a Regulated Financial Institution’s business strategy or business plan and implementation thereof;

The Bank of Ghana shall apply the principle of proportionality in the assessment of the experience profile of the appointee depending on the size, nature, complexity and risk profile of the Regulated Financial Institution.

(b) Furthermore, additional experience might be deemed necessary based on relevant factors e.g. the function applied for, the nature, size and complexity of the entity or other factors deemed necessary.

ii. The Bank of Ghana will assess the materiality of the risk posed by the conflict of interest. The non-exhaustive table per Appendix C includes situations in which there is a presumption that a material conflict of interest exists. However, this does not mean that the Bank of Ghana cannot find material conflicts in cases that fall outside these situations and thresholds.

Thus, a Regulated Financial Institution shall ensure on an on-going basis that the Board as a collective unit includes individuals with a mix of knowledge, skills and experience that are up to date and cover the major business areas and risks.
